

Just in case anyone is still confused.

Anaconda is software that helps us install Python and all the other Python-related stuff we need.

Python is the programming language we are using.

Jupyter Notebook is the platform we code on (also known as an Integrated Development Environment, or IDE). Jupyter Notebook is installed on your computer using Anaconda.

Cheers,

Lucas